The Regional Euro Mediterranean Forum

November 16-18, 2009, Beirut

The Regional Euro Mediterranean Forum on social and economic policies in the Euro-Mediterranean region will bring together representatives of CSOs from both shores of the Mediterranean and will serve as a forum for civil society to discuss the policies and current socio-economic developments in the region.

Special focus will be given to the recent financial crisis and its repercussions for the social and economic development of the southern Mediterranean countries.

Other topics will include:

- regional integration and social and economic cooperation among Arab countries;
- the European Unions' policies towards the Arab states of the Euro-Mediterranean Partnership;
- the CSOs' role and engagement in the social and economic cooperation in the euro-Mediterranean region;
- the means of promoting dialogue and networking among CSOs from both shores of the Mediterranean

The Forum is organized by the Arab NGO Network for Development and the European non-governmental development organization EuroStep, in coordination with the Friedrich Ebert Foundation and Le Centre National de Coopération au Développement (CNCD-11.11.11).
